

TITTA RUFFO WAS LIKED IN DALLAS

Described As a Regular Guy With Firm Clasp of the Hand

They like Titta Ruffo in Dallas. They call him "a regular guy," a whole-souled chap with a firm clasp of the hand, yet the possessor of a quiet dignity that characterizes the really great. The Dallas News, under date of Tuesday, gives an illuminating account of the famous barytone who sang there Monday night and who sings here in concert next Friday night in Convention hall under the auspices of the Hyechka club.

Ruffo was interviewed as to his opinion of jazz music. Of course being one of the few great artists of today, to know that he has taken a definite stand on jazz music, carries with it a certain amount of prestige. It will be interesting to follow the News in the interview. In speaking of jazz in reference to Russia's craze for it, he said:

Thinking About Oil. "And why not? Have they not enough of sadness and bleakness? Is it to be wondered that they embrace a type of music that makes them forget their troubles as they pat their feet to the accented rhythm?"

"Another unfailing sign that Titta Ruffo is a regular guy is the fact that he has been attacked by the oil bacillus. A recent congressional statement was made to the effect that of the 17,000,000 people in America today fully three-fourths of that number had been attacked by the same germ, and the rest would like to be if they had the courage. Mr. Ruffo doesn't sneer at it in particular, but he says he should like to acquire some property in Texas, some investment in land or something similar. Asked if oil would do, he smiled, and answered that it would if someone would go far enough to guarantee the oil."

"Titta Ruffo expects to be a citizen of the United States some day. He has taken out his first citizenship papers. But his home is at present in Rome. Madame Ruffo is there, and his two children are with her. His home there is a wonderful Italian villa that overlooks the immortal city."

With Caruso at Death. "The great barytone was one of the closest friends of his fellow countryman and artist, Enrico Caruso, and he was at Caruso's bedside when the end came. Caruso was brave until the last and he embarked upon the great adventure with a brave smile that was weakened with suffering."

"I shall die this time," Caruso said a few moments before the end. Mr. Ruffo said last night, "I have fought the battle successfully before, but this is the end." Then he asked his son to bring him a glass of water. Before the son could return he had died.

"His going was the greatest loss in the history of music," Mr. Ruffo said. "It is foolish to talk of a successor to Caruso. There is none. There can be none. He was a soul inspired—a voice divine."

"Mr. Ruffo is singing this season with the Metropolitan Opera company in New York. He was granted leave of absence of three weeks to fill his concert engagement here and one in Tulsa next Friday night. He sang Paviacci in New York last week and he returns to the Metropolitan opera house March 10 to sing 'The Barber of Seville.' This is one of his favorite operas, and is to be featured in his program this evening."

"The great barytone is extremely versatile in his choice of songs. He likes and sings the Italian, but is equally partial to the French, and especially the Spanish. The Spanish is a music that is as yet largely unknown, but which is remarkable for its richness and its melody, he says."

Attack on Griffith Blocked.

DUBLIN, Feb. 28.—A resolution to ensure Arthur Griffith was voted down today in the dail eireann, the Irish parliament. Those supporting the resolution contended that Griffith, who is president of the dail, should be censured for his selection of the present minister of agriculture. The resolution failed of passage by six votes.

Cotton Oil Plant Burns. NEW BOSTON, Texas, Feb. 28.—The New Boston Cotton Oil company plant here was burned early this morning with a loss of about $100,000. Several Texas and Pacific freight cars loaded with cotton seed were also destroyed.

Treasurer's Office Crowded All Day

Despite the blizzard which swept down upon the city and county Tuesday the county treasurer's office was crowded all day long with taxpayers settling their bills. But Wayne L. Dickey, county treasurer, said that the storm would prevent many who had put off paying taxes until the last day from setting up before the penalty was attached. Many persons in the county will be affected by the penalty, Dickey believes, because of their inability to come in and pay, due to the storm. A little less than 10 per cent of the taxes are as yet unpaid. The 4-1-2 per cent penalty was attached at midnight Tuesday, but the county treasurer said that where taxes were mailed in, if the letter was mailed before midnight, the penalty would not be attached. About 10 per cent of the taxes have been delinquent in past years, Dickey says.

TULSA HAS FOUR MAJOR PROJECTS

Water Supply First; All Others Depending Upon It

Tulsa now has four major projects in hand which will largely determine the future of this city. sold Cass A. Mayo yesterday, "and these are inter-related, one with the other in such a way as to make each proposition dependent on the success of the other."

"The first, and most important," continued Mayo, "is the Spavinaw water proposition and this carried with it a railway line at least to Claremore, bringing into Tulsa the 8,000-mile railway system of the Missouri Pacific. Next to the water supply comes a new modern hotel, and next to the hotel the livestock and industrial exposition."

Tulsa has grown about as far as it is possible on bottled water and the Arkansas river supply and this fact is realized by the voters of this city who have twice spoken on this subject at the polls. If the new water supply plan is built there is no doubt in my mind that the other projects named will follow, but if the water proposition is tied up in court indefinitely by any possible technicality, then in my judgment there will be no immediate action taken on the railroad, hotel or exposition proposition."

"Tulsa without a proper supply of water does not need another modern hotel, nor does it need more office or business buildings, apartments or homes. Without the additional hotel accommodations, exposition crowds could not be entertained and thus it is that to block the water project is to say that Tulsa is finished."

"Our hotel company," continued Mr. Mayo, "will not be inclined to spend $2,000,000 on a new hotel here as contemplated, unless active construction on the new water supply plant is assured and I believe I voice the sentiment of all loyal Tulsa citizens when I say that anyone responsible for tying up or delaying the water proposition deals a fatal blow to the prosperity of this city."
